The URGENT project provided a transformative experience, especially for us as students. The insights gained through this project have significantly broadened our understanding of the critical issues at the intersection of urban development and climate change. A highlight of the project was the summer school held in Puducherry, where we had the opportunity to engage with experts, participate in hands-on workshops, and collaborate with peers from diverse backgrounds. This immersive experience not only enhanced our technical skills but also deepened our appreciation of interdisciplinary approaches to solving real-world problems. Overall, the project has been instrumental in shaping our academic and professional trajectories, equipping us with the knowledge and skills necessary to contribute meaningfully to the field of urban resilience.
